

Irene Davies, EIT

Irene Davies is an environmental intern at AECOM Canada Ltd. In her role at AECOM, Irene works on environmental impact assessment and environmental licensing for various projects. Irene worked at the University of Manitoba's Women in Science and Engineering outreach program during her time as a student, and is now a member of the MCWESTT planning committee and vice-chair of ACEC-MB's Technical Women in Consulting Engineering Committee.

Breakout Title: “Creating Meaningful Relationships: The Importance of Mentorship for Young Women”

Receiving mentorship is extremely valuable for any student or young professional looking to develop or advance in their career. There are many different types of mentor relationships that we develop throughout our careers. You may be assigned a mentor or mentee in your workplace or perhaps you have sought one out. Maybe you are looking for your first job and are in need of some guidance on where to begin. Regardless of your situation, having a mentor is helpful at any stage in your career. This workshop will focus on ways to find and approach a mentor (or mentee!) and how to make the most of your relationship.